

Meet Catherine Lowry

Your main source for Main Line real estate

Strong community ties Savvy market insights

Catherine Lowry came to the Main Line as a college freshman and never left. She and her husband have lived in Wayne for more than 20 years, raising a family and growing deep roots in the community. Today Catherine's intimate knowledge of the neighborhoods, municipalities, schools—and the real estate market—in and around the Main Line is a major asset to her clients.

Put your dreams in competent hands

“With the help of Catherine’s professional knowledge and genuine enthusiasm, we recently purchased a 100-year-old home. There were multiple issues to be handled before closing, and Catherine guided us through them with ease. We found her confident and reassuring manner invaluable!”

— Michael & Lisa; Wayne.

Expect attentive service

“Catherine worked tirelessly for us and was easily available to answer our questions, show us a home or discuss pertinent matters. We would highly recommend her to assist in buying or selling a home.”

— Nancy; Wayne.

Real estate requires handling details and juggling tasks. Catherine and her husband, Tim—a loan officer with Trident Mortgage Company—raised six children, and she ran her own business for several years before launching her real estate career. She's also an active volunteer for both the area schools and sports teams and local community organizations. What's more, her peers recognize her ability to work well with other agents and clients. Her fellow sales associates recently named her to serve on the Advisory Board of the Wayne Home Marketing Center. Let her put her people skills, multi-tasking ability and love of the Main Line to work for you.

Catherine is passionate about peak performance

Catherine understands that buying or selling a home is a major milestone. All along the Main Line from Wynnewood to Wayne to West Chester, she works hard on behalf of her clients and to protect their best interests, from the first meeting through closing. Whenever you are buying or selling real estate in any price range, you can rely on her for personal, responsive, one-on-one service from start to finish.

Count on Catherine for exceptional real estate service.
